Closing Calgary's Infrastructure Gap

New provincial investments in infrastructure can help ease the impact of our challenging economy by creating jobs and keeping communities safe, resilient and vibrant.

Support critical projects

10-year infrastructure gap about $5.67B for The City of Calgary

Provincial funding support is needed for highest priorities

- Affordable housing
- Future phases of Green Line
- Field house – Calgary is the only major Canadian city without an indoor athletics facility
- Arts Commons – more room is needed to create opportunities for arts and culture
- Flood mitigation on the Bow and Elbow Rivers

Commit to upstream flood mitigation and water storage on Bow River

Calgary's downtown and Bow River communities are still at risk for flooding and need protection

- A future Bow River reservoir to manage flood, drought, and water supply in the face of climate uncertainty
- Provincial support needed to complete technical work and immediately fund the best upstream solutions to protect Calgary
- Continued Provincial support of Calgary's community-level flood mitigation

Extend the 2016 five-year agreement between the Province and TransAlta to help protect communities along the Bow River against the impacts of both floods and drought
